

Author Agreement Form

I agree to be an Author for PathologyOutlines.com. I have read and consent to follow the Author Information and Author Procedure pages found on PathologyOutlines.com. This includes:

- I agree to only write about topics in which I have my own micro images (typically at least 6 per topic) or can obtain these images from a colleague (they will be credited appropriately). Any exceptions must be in writing. This means I cannot rely on micro images in journals or online unless I have permission in writing from the owner. Images should have a brief caption, a detailed figure legend and should not be inscribed with personal information such as name or institution.
- I agree that PathologyOutlines.com can post information about me on the Author page and in the Directory, subject to my review.
- I agree to review the literature for each topic, and update each topic with new information and new references, or rewrite it in its entirety.
- I agree to get consent from all coauthors for the initial draft and any changes to my work.
- I give permission for submitted images that I own to be posted on the PathologyOutlines.com website.
- I understand that PathologyOutlines.com may allow the use of my images by nonprofits and businesses. This typically requires the user to attribute the image contributor. Businesses may be charged a fee for use of the images but it is PathologyOutlines.com's discretion if the image contributor will receive payment.

Images and content contributed to PathologyOutlines.com can be used by the author elsewhere, without the need to ask for permission, as long as the new use does not interfere with the use at PathologyOutlines.com.

Conflict of Interest:

[] I have no interest, and am not affiliated with any organization or entity, which has a financial or nonfinancial interest, in the topics I have written about or am likely to write about for PathologyOutlines.com.

[] I have an interest, or am affiliated with the organizations or entities listed below, that may have a financial or nonfinancial interest in the topics I have written about or am likely to write about for PathologyOutlines.com. I have described the interest below:

Signature

Date

Print name